What did he do wrong?

Did anybody else do something wrong?

Mrs. Rubens' Cold Hard Truth

1. Nothing you post online is private. Assume everyone can see it.
2. Once you post something, you can't control it anymore.
3. Once it is online, it can't be deleted.
4. You have freedom of speech, but you don't have freedom from the consequences of your speech.

While you are remote schooling, you need to follow school rules and family rules at the same time.

Where are some places
you can

Before you post, ask yourself:

- Will this help or hurt me?
- Will this help or hurt someone else?

What is Digital Media Ownership?

- Don't take other people's work and claim it is your own.
- Don't share movies and music if you don't have the rights.

Internet Safety Pledge

- I will think before I post.
- I will respect other people online.
- I will respect digital media ownership.
- I won't meet face to face with anyone in the digital world unless I have my parent's permission.
- I will protect myself online.

We are going to use the EDGE method to create a Troop 129 Internet Safety Tips page on the troop website
